Dr. Chaim Weizman, English Leader, Says Palestine Can Play Important Part

NEAR EAST FEELING UNREST

"We of the Zionists are working for and deeply interested in world peace," declared Dr. Chaim Weizman, of Manchester, Eng., today. "How could we do otherwise when the Jewish community finds its frontiers at San Francisco and its hinterland runs from the Pacific coast east to Palestine?"

Dr. Weizman, president of the British mandatory Palestine commission, is in Philadelphia in connection with the opening of the annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers, which will convene tomorrow morning at the Traymore hotel.

The convention will conclude its sessions Wednesday evening with a banquet and entertainment.

RICCI PROCLAIMS ALLEGIANCE TO U. S.

Italian Ambassador, Speaking Here, Eulogizes Soldiers Who Died in Battle

IS GUEST AT LUNCHEON

America and Italy, united in the hour of common danger, are now united in an effort to bring permanent peace in the world. Uncovered in the presence of the shrine of America's freedom and the many relics sacred to that cause, Vittorio Ricci, Italian Ambassador to this country, proclaimed the mutual allegiance to world peace of the two countries at Independence Hall this morning.

"Today we commemorate here the memory of those who served their country better and more generously than they could have done if they had faithfully served it during a long and industrial life," he declared, in a speech ringing with reverence for the soldier dead of his own Italy and of the United States.

"Without enmity against our former enemy," he said, "without undue pretenses and selfishness, both America and Italy are endeavoring to overcome the industrial and financial crisis which resulted from the war."

Those Who Sacrificed Lives
"But the love for peace which inspires both our countries today and makes them work for everlasting peace does not make us forgetful of those who sacrificed their lives to give us such peace."

England Wise in Mandatory

"England was very wise in assuming this mandatory, for by a spiritual force she has achieved what force of arms could not have achieved, a real influence in this her bulwark of the East. British taxpayers don't want to pay to build any naval base. England would withdraw her garrisons today if it were not needed for the people's protection. According to the mandate this country can never become a base for any aggressive policy, and I don't think the English intend to make it such a base."

"The peaceful development of Palestine assures the stability of the Near East more than any quantity of guns could assure it. Wars come of mis-understandings and ignorance, and Palestine ought to be the medium of interpretation to avoid such wars."

TWO LINERS BRING 2500

Steamships Haverford and Caserta Land Their Passengers Here

More than 2500 passengers, mostly immigrants, arrived in this city on the White Star liner Haverford, from Liverpool and Queenstown, and the Italian steamship Caserta, from Naples and Genoa, both of which docked yesterday. All but eight of the Haverford's passengers were allowed to land, but only 340 cabin passengers of the Caserta disembarked. Examination of the remaining passengers will be begun today by inspectors.

The Haverford left Liverpool May 17, stopped at Queenstown and shortly after leaving there ran into a fog and storm in the North Atlantic. For two days the ship was tossed before the fog lifted. During the storm Maria Kapee, a nine-month-old infant died, and was buried at sea. The following day a boy was born to Mrs. Chianiovelli, a Rumanian, of Bucharest, bound for Philadelphia.

BLAME MICE FOR FIRE

Four-story Building Destroyed With $5000 Loss

While firemen were fighting flames which destroyed the grocery store and apartment of Max Tendler, at Twentieth and Wharton streets, last night, an alarm was sent in from Broad and Wharton streets.

Companies dispatched to answer the new call, which was sounded at 9:45 o'clock, five minutes after the Twentieth and Wharton streets call, found it to be a false alarm.

The blaze at the Tendler place started in the cellar and is believed to have been caused by mice chewing on structure. The building, a four-story structure, was destroyed by the flames. The damage is estimated at $5000. The Tendlers were away from home at the time of the fire.

NAB 8 PHILA. MEN IN RAID

Five Fined at National Park When Arraigned Before Recorder

Eight Philadelphians were arrested at National Park yesterday, following a raid on their clubhouse, led by Constable Matlack. About thirty citizens took part, including many borough officials. The men were arraigned before Recorder Bentz, who fined five of them. Three, who said they took no part in the determined resistance that was offered the raiding party, were released. All the men gave addresses in the vicinity of Second and Jackson streets, this city.

Daniel McCrossen, Frank McNulty and Thomas Curtin were fined $14.50 each. John Conway and James Haines paid $7.50 each.

THESE 3 BOYS OUT TO WIN BICYCLES

Plan Trip to Washington Made Possible by the Public Ledger Contest

CONFIDENT OF WINNING

Here is the story of three boys who are bent on business as far as the Black Beauty contest is concerned. They aren't little boys, they're big ones—sixteen, seventeen and eighteen years old. They don't want to win three bikes to ride around the block on. They are going to go all the way to Washington and camp out on the way.

Isn't that a whole of a trip? Think what a good time they'll have. Just consider the camping out part of the journey alone. Little dog-tents pitched beside a nice, cool, shady brook; potatoes baking away in their jackets tucked away in smoldering embers; bacon sizzling in the pan; coffee steaming in the pot. Oh, boy! Can't you just picture them?

But that isn't all. Fine a time as these three boys will have whizzing along the country roads by day and sleeping 'neath the stars at night, the best part of the adventure is ahead. They'll see Washington, the great Capital of our Nation.
